

In 1914, the world went to war and in the next four years, millions of lives were lost. In the wake of the recent centenary of the conflict, this sticker book provides a hands-on, sensitive, and child-friendly approach to exploring this transformative period of history. It offers more than 150 stickers to complete double-page war scenes and activities, along with fully integrated background information to engage kids and help them learn as they play. You can add sticker soldiers to complete a cutaway view of a trench on the Western Front; put tanks on a fact file; discover true stories of bravery, and much more.
